“Belgrade Young Economists Conference”

11-12 June 2016
University of Belgrade

The third Belgrade Young Economists Conference, organised by the Faculty of Economics of the University of Belgrade with the support of UniCredit & Universities, took place at the University of Belgrade on 11 and 12 June 2016. The goal of the meeting was to help young researchers polish their papers before publishing them in reputable international journals and to build a vibrant network.

Main speakers, among the others:

- Charles Engel (University of Wisconsin, Madison)
- Boyan Jovanović (New York University)
- Pavle Petrović (Faculty of Economics, University of Belgrade)
- Branko Urošević (Faculty of Economics, University of Belgrade and the National Bank of Serbia)
- Milan Nedeljković (National Bank of Serbia)

For this conference, UniCredit & Universities has launched a Best Paper Award for the best paper presented by young researchers at the event. The winner will award €1,000 before tax.

The winners are (in alphabetical order):

- Rigissa Megalokonomou, Assistant Professor at the University of Queensland, with the paper "Knowing who you are: the effect of feedback on short and long term outcomes".
- Nikola Vasiljevic, Assistant at the University of Zurich and Swiss Finance Institute, with the paper "Option-implied intra-horizon risk and first-passage disentanglement".
