The first “Winter Symposium in Economics and Finance” has been organized by the Department of Economics and Finance of Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore, in cooperation with Unicredit&Universities.

The conference aims at bringing together the Faculty members of the Department with top international scholars in the Department’s main areas of expertise.

The format of the Symposium is designed to stimulate collaboration between senior and young researchers working not only within Italy but also abroad. Sessions will be held in the morning and afternoon.

The invited speakers were:

Alessandro Bonatti (MIT Sloan), George Evans (University of Oregon), Giovanni Facchini (University of Nottingham), Tommaso Frattini (University of Milan), Gaetano Gaballo (ECB), Gino Gancia (CREI), Miklos Koren (Central European University), Petter Lundborg (Lund University), Ferdinando Monte (Georgetown University), Claudia Olivetti (Boston College), Alessandro Pavan (Northwestern University) and Giovanni Peri (University of California Davis).
